In Edyoda I have done a project on the Online food Ordering System where I used to learn how to add, remove, update, delete food item, also get into the login functionalities and usages of JSON on it. I also learned about the different modules and packages used in the project.